

Risk Policy

Thorburn Australia recognises that Risk Management is an integral part of good management practice. As such, we shall adhere to all requirements of the Australian Standard in Risk Management, AS4360.

This requirement shall be applied to all stages of an activity, function, project, product or asset.

In particular, risks shall be identified for all facets of our projects including occupational health and safety, proposals, project management, design, commissioning and hand over.

The objective of this policy is to communicate to all staff and stakeholders our commitment to reducing risk by identifying, analysing, evaluating, treating, monitoring and communicating all risks to our own and our client's business.

Our risk procedure shall be followed to ensure all aspects of this policy are adhered to.

This policy is endorsed by the company Director, Shane Thorburn.

Shane Thorburn
10 June, 2011